

Name:

Date:

Beginning Survey

Please complete survey as fully as possible. Use the back of the page if necessary.

1. What is journalism?
2. What is news?
3. Who produces news? Or where does it come from? Or where do you find it?
4. Why is there news?
5. What are some of the qualities of good journalism? In other words, do you have certain expectations of your news producers?
6. What is community news?
7. Is community news different from national or international news?
8. Are community journalism and international/national journalism different? How? Why?
9. Are readers journalists? If you think so, why? If not, why not? Be specific.
10. Is community news more or less important than national/international news?
11. How do you define "reader" of the news? In other words, does a reader have a role? What is it? Do readers have any responsibilities?
12. Do news producers have any obligations to their readers?
13. How does the press protect the rights of its employees? Sources? Readers?
14. What does good community journalism look like?
15. What would news in a good community newspaper look like?

Name:

Date: 3/11/2018

Ending Survey

Please complete survey as fully as possible. Use the back of the page if necessary.

1. What is journalism?
2. What is news?
3. Who produces news? Or where does it come from? Or where do you find it?
4. Why is there news?
5. What are some of the qualities of good journalism? In other words, do you have certain expectations of your news producers?
6. What is community news?
7. Is community news different from national or international news?
8. Are community journalism and international/national journalism different? How? Why?
9. Are readers journalists? If you think so, why? If not, why not? Be specific.
10. Is community news more or less important than national/international news?
11. How do you define "reader" of the news? In other words, does a reader have a role? What is it? Do readers have any responsibilities?

12. Do news producers have any obligations to their readers?
13. How does the press protect the rights of its employees? Sources? Readers?
14. What does good community journalism look like in general?
15. What would news in a good community covering Bristol newspaper look like?
16. Summarize your thoughts about how quality journalism would be delivered to Bristol readers, how readers would be considered partners in journalistic enterprises, how some ethical concerns/conflicts of interest might be address, i.e., city committee members reporting on their own committees?
17. If this project were to continue, what would some next steps be?